

Adhocracy

Where the wind blows

Jennifer Wells, July 15, 2008 at 8:37 AM EDT

That superboard being hand-painted above the Gardiner Expressway that I wrote about last week? Well, take a gander. The artwork, part of Newfoundland and Labrador's Fresh Air Campaign, is now complete: a knock-your-socks-off 3-D spectacular, I say. The delightful finishing touches of the handpainted window frame and the real, billowing-in-the-breeze curtains should make this an award winner. That the "window" on the great coastal outdoors should be erected above the smog-loving Gardiner? Perfect.